To whom it may concern

I am very pleased to recommend Dr. Rahman Veisi Hasar for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in Iranian Studies.

Rahman's voracious reading of Iranian languages and Kurdish religions and his experience in doing research in this area makes him highly appropriate for a program on Iranian Studies. He has published research on Iranian languages and Iranian minority cultures in prestigious journals of the field. I have found his published work highly innovative and appealing. His teaching is marked by the same focus and consistency which is observed in his researches. His well-chosen courses include sociolinguistics, semantics and historical linguistics.

Additionally, his academic experience at Bochum University in Germany, where he worked in the field of Kurdish religions, has provided him with valuable knowledge and expertise. I know that he has a monograph on the Yarsan religion, which he wrote during that period. He has been working on it for several years and plans to revise and publish it during this research stay. I believe that if his project is accepted, it will yield fruitful results.

As a person, Rahman is very good-natured, sociable, friendly and kind. While his highly critical mind is teeming with excellent new ideas, he is an excellent listener who has the ability to capture other people's good ideas and work on them. Therefore, he is very easy to work with. With colleagues like Rahman work environment feels like an amusement park: he is brilliant, exciting, and at the same time easy to work with.

I highly recommend Rahman for this program and I am sure that you will be very happy for letting him in your institute. If you think I can help further do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours Sincerely,
