To whom it may concern,

I am writing to extend my highest recommendation for Dr. Negin Mojgani. I have had the pleasure of knowing Negin for the past fourteen years, serving as her educator and thesis co-advisor. I consider her an outstanding candidate for the position you offered.

During her undergraduate and graduate studies at the University of Tehran, Negin was always a self-motivated, engaged, and astute student. Her inquisitiveness to know more about the subjects discussed in class was remarkable. I often found her in the library consulting additional resources on various topics, which she would then enthusiastically share with her classmates. Negin was my assistant and, to date, she has written four insightful papers under my supervision. I was very pleased to see that she was strongly committed to her work and able to complete the assignments independently and promptly.

Negin has so far displayed excellent leadership skills. Her altruism shone as she voluntarily conducted several sessions for her international peers from disadvantaged backgrounds. Learning about the challenges faced by her Afghan classmates with Classical Arabic texts, she put a lot of effort into writing a concise handbook containing essential insights. Her spirit of collaboration assures me that she would be a positive asset to any research team.

I am confident in Negin's potential to be a great professor in her field. This postdoctoral opportunity would provide her with the experiences necessary for her future success. I hope that you will consider her application favorably.

Should you require further information or clarification regarding Dr. Negin Mojgani's credentials, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Dr. Alireza Hajiannejad
