To whom it may concern,

It gives me great pleasure to write a recommendation for Negin Mojgani, one of my most outstanding students. I have known Negin since she enrolled in the bachelor's program in Persian Language and Literature at the University of Tehran in 2010. Based on her exceptional talent, passion, and diligence, I am convinced of her potential as an invaluable addition to your esteemed center.

Negin took a number of my courses, including 'Mystical Prose' and 'Mystical Poetry'. She consistently made excellent contributions to the class discussions. Among her peers, she stood out by demonstrating a wide array of knowledge in classical Persian and Islamic mysticism. Her academic excellence was undeniable, as she was ranked among the top-tier students in our department during her time at the University of Tehran.

I supervised Negin for her Master's thesis on mystical language and also served as one of her co-advisors for her doctoral thesis on Islamic aesthetic theories in medieval Iran. In both endeavors, she demonstrated a strong commitment to her work and the ability to excel in her field even under challenging circumstances.

On a personal level, Negin is compassionate, friendly, and pleasant to work with. She is deeply concerned about injustice in academic environments and supports students from disadvantaged backgrounds by voluntarily leading study groups. Her patience, initiative, leadership skills, and intellectual creativity make her a well-suited person to teach at the university level. I am confident that her research and teaching talent will further flourish during her postdoctoral project at your esteemed institution.

I would be pleased to provide you with any further information.

Kindest Regards,

Dr. Rouhollah Hadi,
